Vocation Opportunities

Northern Arizona Church of Christ is inviting men and women who are interested in Campus Ministry to fill out an application to join our staff with Vintage Christian Fellowship. Opportunities include:

- Campus Missionaries: for those with previous ministry experience.
- Interns: apprenticeships for those without ministry experience.

About The Church

Northern Arizona Church of Christ (NACC), in Flagstaff, AZ, is a newly organized congregation, since the merge of two congregations in 2006.

Vintage Christian Fellowship (VCF) is the campus ministry sponsored by NACC, serving on the campus of Northern Arizona University (with over 15,000 students).

NACC presently has two full-time evangelists: Terry Haynie and Tyler Ellis. Terry is the evangelist working specifically with NACC; a congregation of 60 members. Tyler is the evangelist working specifically with the College-Age/Campus Ministry. VCF was launched in the fall of 2005, growing to 15 members in its first year, to 30 members in its second year.

Our Values

At NACC and VCF, we place great emphasis on Jesus as the center of the gospel message: both as the Savior (whom we rely exclusively upon for salvation), and as Lord (whom we strive to surrender to on a daily basis). We teach that the benefits of Jesus' death and resurrection are personally received when a person surrenders to the lordship of Christ and calls upon God through baptism.

Beyond that, discipleship is our next step, as we seek to train Christ-followers to develop a meaningful relationship with God. This includes learning a biblical worldview, pursuing a holy life, practicing unity in the church, showing compassion to "the least of these," and participating in evangelism, both locally and globally.

Our Vision

Our specific vision in raising up the next generation of Christ-followers is to train new campus missionaries, plant new campus ministries, as well as reach the nations through international students.
